

SMALL-SIZED RIOT IN SOUTH NORFOLK

Number of Negroes Thrown Out of Their Homes by Bluejackets.

PROVOST GUARD SENT OUT

With Aid of Civil Authorities,
Soon Quell the Disturbance.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Norfolk, Va., September 22.—But for the prompt action taken by the authorities of the Naval Training Station in dispatching a provost guard, fifty strong to the scene of trouble, an incipient riot between 100 bluejackets and the negroes of South Norfolk would have grown into a serious affair to-night. As it was, before the guard could arrive, a number of negroes were thrown out of their homes, several others were bruised by flying bricks and a small sized panic.

The clash between the sailors and negroes resulted from some rock-throwing indulged by the negroes on Saturday afternoon, when the column of sailors were returning from the baseball game between the Franklin and South Norfolk baseball teams on the South Norfolk diamond. Late this afternoon the sailors returned in groups of three and four, determined to secure revenge. That they would have secured in full measure, but for the hurried arrival of the guard under the command of Lieutenant Maxfield, through the unlighted streets the cards scattered in every direction and soon rounded up the disturbance makers, who were hunting negroes right and left. The sailors were sent back to quarters at Saint Helena, and South Norfolk resumed its Sunday night quietness.

Some one telephoned to the Berkeley police station and to the Naval Training Station soon after the trouble started. Lieutenant-Commander Stone, executive officer of the receiving ship Franklin, at the command of Captain Quimby, commander of the station, dispatched fifty blue jackets and marines all with side arms to the scene of the trouble. They arrived in less than half an hour, and with the aid of the police department from the Berkeley station and Norfolk County authorities soon quelled the disturbance. During the game on Saturday some of the negroes struck two or three small white boys and the blue jackets took up their cause. The sailors were stopped after the sailors had cleaned the field around the diamond of negroes. When the sailors were marching back to the station some negroes threw a brick or so into the column. The sailors could not break ranks to find the brickthrower, then or five hours later a number of them returned to South Norfolk, precipitating a riot when Sergeant Tatem, of the Berkeley police station, appeared with a squad of men.

Mr. Poe to-night announced his intention of asking the Baltimore Police Department to-morrow for a detail of policemen to assist the sheriff of Harford County in making arrests if there should be an attempt to place bets at the Havre de Grace race track. If book-makers arrested, they will be repeatedly arrested, according to Mr. Poe's present plans.

Sermons were preached in a number of churches here to-day condemning the race meeting. It developed to-day that the Baltimore County Racing Commission, from whom a license must be obtained for racing at Pimlico, also failed to qualify in the declared necessary. It is believed, however, that the Governor will rescript the three members.

An Expert Opinion Miss Natalie Alt The Charming Prima Donna Of THE QUAKER GIRL

Expresses Her Opinion of Hardman Pianos

Walter D. Moses & Co.:
Gentlemen,—After much experience with and careful examination of your celebrated HARDMAN UPRIGHT PIANOFORTES, it gives me great pleasure to express to you my warm appreciation of their superior excellence. As instruments for accompanying the voice, they possess fine sustaining quality so helpful to an artist, yet so rarely found.

As solo instruments they combine a brilliancy and perfection of action which was formerly supposed to belong exclusively to the Concert Grand.

Wishing you success, I beg to remain,

Very truly,

(Signed) NATALIE ALT.

That this flattering opinion of the superiority of the Hardman Piano is shared by the leading concert and professional performers of the country is conclusive proof of the quality of these pianos. In durability, tonal quality and beauty of design the Hardman is unexcelled.

Catalog and descriptive literature on request.

ACTRESS TO SUE FOR BIG ESTATE

Ada Meade, of Madame Sherry Company, Claimant for $1,000,000 Fortune.

Miss Ada Meade, who played the title role in "Madame Sherry," which opened the season at the Academy of Music, will shortly enter suit to reclaim a fortune of more than $1,000,000 which, it is claimed, has unlawfully been kept from her family for more than a century. The money is on deposit in the Bank of England, where Miss Meade claims, it was left by one of her ancestors early in the last century when the family came to America.

The suit has aroused much interest in Natchez, Miss., and Lexington, Ky., where the family is well known. The actress, whose real name is Miss Ada Meade Saffarena, is the daughter of the late Daniel Saffarena, of Lexington. In the early eighties the latter, being then well to do, married Miss Ada Meade, of Natchez, one of the richest heiresses of the State. Misfortunes which came in the next few years caused the loss of his own as well as his wife's fortune.

Confronted with poverty Mr. Saffarena started proceedings to recover a fortune to which his wife was sole heir and which had been in litigation since the War of 1812. He died before accomplishing his object, and a fire destroyed his home in Natchez shortly afterwards caused the loss of all the official receipts and records. The Meades had before coming to America left the bulk of their fortune in England, taking with them only the official receipt of the bank. An unsuccessful attempt was made after Mr. Saffarena's death to recover the money by sworn statements regarding the loss of the papers.

Miss Ada Meade, whose clever work in "Madame Sherry" is well remembered in Richmond, took up her profession in an effort to raise enough money to prosecute the suit. She became twenty-one a year ago, and is now preparing to reopen the case which has dragged in the courts for half a century. In the course of the legal fight the Meades, one by one, have died, until Mrs. Saffarena, the mother of the actress, has been left sole heir to the claims.

FRIEST AND MATOR CLASH

Caused Each Other's Arrest in Louisville Town.

Breaux Bridge, La., September 22.—The population of this town, almost entirely Catholic, has been stirred as never before by the arrest of the parish priest, and the Mayor, each at the instigation of the other. The arrests follow the receipt of the city official of a series of threatening letters.

Friday the Rev. A. M. Richard, pastor of St. Bernard's Church, was taken into custody on a charge of larceny, preferred by Mayor Harrison Morrow. The priest was accused of rousing feeling against Morrow, and of stirring up the parishioners against him. A lunacy commission, composed of the Coroner and the leading doctor of the town, examined Father Richard and pronounced him sane, his discharge following.

Yesterday the Mayor was arrested upon a warrant sworn out by the priest alleging criminal libel.

The people of Breaux Bridge are divided almost equally between the opposing factions, and feeling is bitter. Special steps have been taken to prevent an outbreak on Sunday.

CHICAGO UNION CLUB CLOSED.

Was Too Exclusive to Get Members Among Irish Young Men.

Chicago, September 22.—After thirty years of existence the Union Club of Chicago has closed its doors. Its exclusiveness had effectively barred the rising generation of millionaires, and there were some of the older set who declared that its receipts from sales of wines and liquors failed to liquidate its annual tax to the State and city.

No ceremonies marked the closing of the clubhouse. At noon the managers turned the key in the lock and the Union Club passed out of existence. The house has been leased by the Salvation Army and will be turned into a home for working girls. Some of the bachelors who had quarters at the club have moved to downtown clubs and others have sought refuge in hotels.

Among the prominent Chicagoans who were members of the club were: William G. Biele, W. C. Fairbanks, James B. Foy, John H. Hays, W. H. McLean, Victor F. Brown, Harold W. McCormick, R. R. Patterson, Foster P. W. Moore, and others.

CURIOUS CROWDS GREET PRISONERS

was the only attorney for the prisoners on the train. So far as was known by the detectives no attorneys had been secured by the Aliens to defend them aside from Judge Oglesby. They seem to question that Jack Lee, of Lynchburg, would accept the cases.

Judge Walter S. Staples, of Roanoke, who has been designated to hear the cases arrived to-day on a later train. He, with the attorneys for the Commonwealth, Hon. J. C. Wyssor and J. C. Draper, of Pulaski, and W. S. Poage, of Wytheville, left here this afternoon in an automobile for Hillsville. They will return to-morrow immediately after the arraignment.

Wants to See Children.

Captain Baldwin sent messages from Pulaski while waiting for connection to Mrs. Sidna Allen and Mrs. Albert Mundy, the mother of Edwards, to come to Hillsville to see husband and son. Sidna Allen asked expressly that his children be brought also, as he was anxious to see them all. The messages expressed specifically that the children also be brought.

Captain Baldwin stated to a newspaper man here this morning that another man in Carroll County, who is alleged to have helped to get the fugitives out of the county, had figured very prominently in helping to get trail of Allen and Edwards, and who would come in for a part of the reward. Mr. Baldwin declined to state the man's name for reasons he deemed pertinent.

WITHDRAWAL DEMANDED

Costa Rica Wants Troops Recalled From Nicaragua.

Washington, September 22.—Immediate withdrawal of the armed forces of the United States now in Nicaragua is demanded in a circular drawn up by residents of San Jose, Costa Rica, copies of which reached this city to-day. A copy of the circular has been handed the American minister to Costa Rica, but as yet he has made no reply to the State Department. Officials at the department to-night said that no importance is to be attached to the circular. The policy of the United States in dealing with the uprising in Nicaragua, as set forth in a note recently made public by the State Department, met with the approval of representatives of Costa Rica and the other Central American republics stationed here.

The circular asks that the troops be withdrawn "in the name of humanity," and declares in vigorous language that Central Americans resent the measures taken by the United States. It is signed by some of the prominent political leaders of Costa Rica.

Confirmation of the reported occupancy of Granada by Admiral Southard was received at the State Department in a dispatch from the admiral. The dispatch indicated that the passage from Managua was made without serious opposition from the rebels. Apparently no shots were fired after the advance guard of the American forces entered the city. Reports injured by rebel shots were reported by missiles hurled at the train by rebel sympathizers. With United States forces policing Granada and the railroad between that city and Managua, officials here believe the situation is well in hand.

SLAIN BY OFFICER

Seeks to Escape Arrest and Is Shot to Death.

Atlanta, Ga., September 22.—John E. White, aged twenty-three, was shot and killed early to-day by Patrolman E. R. Parham, while trying to escape arrest. He had been prowling about a private home. The owner of the home had notified the police that someone was trying to steal his cow. According to the police, Parham answered the call, and when Wright disregarded the order to halt, the officer fired, with fatal results.

VALE SHOWS CHANGES

New Buildings on Campus, New Faces in the Faculty.

New Haven, September 22.—With buildings costing a round million dollars under construction and nearly completed, and with structures valued at another million planned, Yale University will begin its 212th year next Thursday. The half-million dollar Sioana laboratory and the Henry F. Wright memorial dormitory are completed, and will be used for the first time next week.

The new laboratories of zoology and botany are partly finished, but should be ready before another school year. The new baseball cage is also ready for occupancy.

From page collective are the plans for the development of the medical school. An agreement has been made with the New Haven General Hospital by the terms of which, in case Yale sets aside $600,000 before January 1, 1914, of which $100,000 shall be used to build a clinical and pathological laboratory in connection with the hospital, and $500,000 to equip it, Yale shall have all the rights of nomination of attending physicians in the hospital service and all rights to use the hospital for essential teaching purposes.

The retirement of Governor Simeon E. Baldwin from the chair of jurisprudence in the law school and the resignation of Professor William Reynolds Vance have left vacancies, which have been filled by the promotion of Dr. John Warren Edgerton and by the appointment of Baldo Gifford, pro-dean of the Fordham University Law School. Professor Gifford is a graduate of Harvard.

The appointment of Professor Julius Petersen, of the University of Munich, to a professorship of German literature in the graduate department, covering a two years' stay, is regarded with high favor by that department, which has been recently reorganized by Professor Hans Oertel, its new dean. Professor E. Hershey Sneath, who retired in 1906 from the professorship of pedagogy will return this fall to active duty as professor of the philosophy of religion and religious education.

No immediate boom in membership is expected, the rigid and recently increased entrance requirements having limited the attendance in the professional schools materially the last two years. The total university registration for the last year was 3,229, and the faculty numbered 524. The coming year is expected to show additions of perhaps one or two hundred to the registration numbers.

DISCUSSING CHARITIES

Catholic Conference Gets Under Way at Washington.

Washington, September 22.—To consider baffling problems of poverty and measures designed to rescue the poor from ignorance and disease, the National Conference of Catholic Charities began its second biennial meeting here to-day with several hundred delegates from various parts of the United States attending.

The convention opened with the celebration of mass at the Catholic University of America, where the Rt. Rev. J. F. Regis Canavan, Bishop of Pittsburgh, sounded the keynote of the gathering in a sermon on charity and correction at work. At the public meeting to-night the broad scheme of charities was discussed.

Thomas J. Shanan, rector of the Catholic University, delivered an address on "The Church in Charity," and Thomas M. Mulry, of New York, on "The Government in Charity."

During the four days duration of the conference many questions relating to the poor and to social outcasts will be discussed. Particular attention will be given to dependent and delinquent children. The conference was organized two years ago, to afford opportunity for experienced Catholic charity workers to exchange views on the manifold problems confronting them.

The conference is not a relief organization, but has many such associations in its membership.

DIE IN SUICIDE PACT

Niles Folsom and Mrs. Bartee Victims of Unrequited Love.

Los Angeles, Cal., September 22.—The suicide of Niles C. Folsom, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Thelma Bartee, of San Diego, who plunged to their deaths from a five-foot precipice late last night in an automobile, was discovered by a party of national guardsmen returning home after an automobile ride.

According to a letter left by Folsom, he was infatuated with a Los Angeles chorus girl, who is said to have spurned him because of his intemperate habits.

In a letter found on Mrs. Bartee and signed with her name it was stated that she loved Folsom better than her life; that she had placed his happiness above everything, and that she had tried in vain to bring him and his sweetheart together. Then she decided to accept Folsom's invitation that they should die together. "Mr. Folsom told me he could never marry me," the note read, "for reasons known to us both. I was old enough to be his mother, but I loved him. He did me a service greater than that ever performed for another woman in my position by a man, and I could not help but love him."

Mrs. Bartee said but for the inducement of a "certain gang," the ring-leader of which was once hired by San Francisco crooks to put Fremont Older out of way, Folsom would have reformed and been a man once more. "But they piled him with whiskey so they could use him to further their own ends, and this is the result," said the note.

Fremont Older is the editor of the San Francisco Bulletin.
